PREMIUM FINANCE COMPANY REGISTRATION (CONTINUED)
Sample Computations to be Completed and Attached

The MIA requests that each PFC include an explanatory statement describing how the PFC will calculate the interest charged in the event a PFA is cancelled prior to maturity.

In order to ensure that the MIA has a clear understanding of these calculations, each registration must be accompanied by the sample computations that follow, demonstrating all calculations used in determining any refund due to the consumer. If a premium finance company finances personal and commercial lines policies, please provide the sample computations for both.

Sample Computations should consist of the following for Personal Lines Scenarios 1-6 and Commercial Lines Scenarios 1-4:

- i. Calculations for each payment plan offered (for example, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 installments, if available) at the highest interest rate charged
- ii. Show the total amount of interest and fees charged
- iii. Show the amount of premium returned
- iv. Show the amount of any other monies returned (such as motor club fees)
- v. Show the amount of unearned interest
- vi. Show all calculations.

Personal Lines: The annual premium for the automobile insurance policy is $1,000. There is an add-on rental reimbursement policy at an annual premium of $100, and an add-on motor club with a $100 annual fee. The insured makes a down payment of $200.

Scenario 1	The policies go the full term of the PFA.
Scenario 2	The policies are cancelled after being in effect for 28 days and the unearned auto premium is received on day 57, the unearned rental premium, on day 60 and the unearned motor club fees, on day 61. A late fee and the cancellation fee are charged.
Scenario 3	The auto policy is voided ab initio and the unearned auto premium is received on day 17.
Scenario 4	The policies are cancelled after being in effect for 65 days and the unearned auto premium is received on day 95, the unearned motor club fee on day 100 and the unearned rental premium, on day 120. Two late fees, one reinstatement fee and one cancellation fee are charged.
Scenario 5	33 days after policy inception, the insured adds another vehicle to the auto policy and an additional premium of $600 is added to the finance agreement. Identify, describe and explain all charges associated with this change.
Scenario 6	Begin with scenario 5. On day 90, the insured deletes the first vehicle from the auto policy, resulting in a return of unearned premium of $750 which is received by the insurer on day 120. The policy goes to term.

Provide the rate charts used in the above scenarios. In addition, provide a copy of the sample illustration that the premium finance company must provide upon request to explain how the finance charge is earned in accordance with Section 23-301(b)(5)(viii) of the Insurance Article. Finally, provide a copy of the language that will be used in the premium finance agreement form that shows the total amount owed and monthly payments due on any motor club service contract that is included on a premium finance agreement. See Section 23-301(e).

|-------------------|--|
| Scenario 1 | The policy goes the full term of the PFA. |
| Scenario 2 | The policy is cancelled after being in effect for 28 days and the unearned premium is received on day 57. A late fee and the cancellation fee are charged. Insurer waives the audit. |
| Scenario 3 | The policy is cancelled after being in effect for 150 days and the insurer conducts an audit. The unearned premium is received on day 215. Three late fees, one reinstatement fee and one cancellation fee are charged. |
| Scenario 4 | 33 days after policy inception, the insured makes a change to the business operation which causes an increase in premium. An additional premium of $4500 is added to the finance agreement. Identify, describe and explain all charges associated with this change. |

Provide the rate charts used in the above scenarios. In addition, provide a copy of the sample illustration that the premium finance company must provide upon request to explain how the finance charge is earned in accordance with Section 23-301(b)(5)(viii) of the Insurance Article.

General Information Regarding the Premium Finance Laws

Disclaimer: This summary is provided for informational purposes only and does not represent all requirements of Title 23 of the Insurance Article. For additional information, please read the law in its entirety, which can be accessed through the following link:

<http://mgaleg.maryland.gov/webmga/frmStatutes.aspx?pid=statpage&tab=subject5>

- 1) Upon cancellation of the contract, the actuarial method of interest computation is authorized under premium finance agreements and the rule of 78s is prohibited;
- 2) If the actuarial method is used, the requirement for premium finance companies is to include this statement in at least 12 point type on the finance agreement: “If this agreement is cancelled or the loan is prepaid in full before the end of its term, the actuarial method will be used to calculate the earned finance charge. Under this method, most of the finance charge is earned in the early months of the loan term rather than equally in each month. You may request a sample illustration of how the finance charge is earned.”;
- 3) Motor club service fees can be included on the premium finance agreements; however, no finance charges or other charges can be imposed on the fees, nor can a premium finance company cancel the insurance policy if the insured pays an amount sufficient to cover the installment related to the insurance policy, but insufficient to cover the motor club fee;
- 4) Finance charges are earned in 30 day increments and may be earned on the first day of each thirty day period. If a finance charge is earned on the first day of each thirty day period, the premium finance agreement shall contain a notification to that effect;
- 5) Premium finance agreements for commercial insureds may include separate provisions requiring representations, warranties or other obligations of the insurance producer that solicits, sells and negotiates the policy that is being premium financed;
- 6) Commercial insureds may be subject to finance charges on any unpaid principal balance of the loan after the cancellation of the policy and after the return of unearned premiums from the insurers in certain instances;
- 7) Cancellation charges for private passenger auto policies, personal fire or liability insurance are equal to the difference between the delinquency and collection charge and $15 for calendar year 2014; however, the amount increases by $1 every year until reaching $20 in 2019;
- 8) Cancellation charges may be imposed on or after the cancellation date stated in the Notice of Intent to Cancel as long as the notice has been delivered to the insured in accordance with Section 23-402 of the Insurance Article, the notice states that the cancellation fee will be charged on the cancellation date stated in the notice and the Notice of Intent to Cancel contains the following language in 12 point or larger type:
“If you do not pay the delinquent amount before the cancellation effective date stated in this notice, at any time within 30 days of the cancellation effective date, your insurance policy is subject to cancellation on the cancellation effective date. This means that if you have a loss on or after the cancellation effective date stated in this notice, you may not have coverage for this loss.”;

- 9) Electronic checks are defined as a form of payment for which a fund transfer is made electronically from a payer's bank account to a premium finance company's bank account. Electronic checks are subject to the same fees as other electronic payments;
- 10) Premium finance companies can send notices electronically if they comply with the requirements of Section 27-601.2 of the Insurance Article;
- 11) Premium finance agreements containing personal lines policies of insurance can be pledged as collateral for a loan and assigned. They can only be assigned to other MD registered premium finance companies and a notice must be sent to the insured by first class mail or electronically (if consented to) advising that the obligation to service the agreement has been assigned to another premium finance company; and
- 12) Premium finance agreements containing commercial lines policies of insurance can be pledged as collateral for a loan. They can also be assigned to any party, as long as the agreement states this and the obligation to service the loan remains with a MD registered premium finance company. If assigned, notice must be sent to the insured by first class mail or electronically (if consented to) advising that the obligation to service the agreement has been assigned to another premium finance company.
